Vilas

A History of Craftsmanship

The Vilas Furniture Company is situated in Quebec's Eastern Townships, in the heart of country colonized by United Empire Loyalists from New England. These colonists came to Quebec as early as 1782, bringing with them a tradition of furniture-making based on fine workmanship and simplicity of design. They created a style of furniture that was informal in the best sense of the word.

a style as warm and welcoming in today's homes as it was in the settler's homes of the 18th century.

Welcome to the Warm World of Colonial

Nothing else says, "come in, you're welcome here," quite like the warmth and glow of colonial furnishings.

It could be the inviting comfort of an upholstered rocker. Or the pleasure of dining amid the steadfast simplicity of solid rock maple cabinets. And then there's the unexpected pleasure of seeing a schoolmaster's desk taking its place at the head of the room.

Treasures such as these enhance today's lifestyles as perhaps no other style of furniture can.

Whether you're an urban apartment dweller seeking a haven from harried life in the city, or a home owner looking for just the right atmosphere - be it rustic, casual, opulent or elegant, you'll find colonial charming and adaptable; easy to live with, to create your own special mood.

And moods made the Vilas way are made to last.

General Information

Wood

At Vilas, our careful selection of solid rock maple woods ensures a minimum of natural marks such as birthmarks, mineral stains and streaks. Since nature makes every tree different, variations in shade and grain are to be expected, even within the same piece. Such variations however actually enhance the appearance of fine furniture.

Finishes

Before ordering your beautiful Vilas furniture, take a moment to consider the finish which most appropriately expresses your taste. Emberglow - (regular finish price) the warm rich tone of glowing embers will offer that timeless elegance associated with colonial.

Candlelight - (regular finish price) is lighter in tone, a classic Vilas maple finish that set a standard for the industry. (unavailable on Cottage Lane).

All Vilas furniture is finished with a remarkable alkyd system which contains a high density of solids when applied. This alkyd system, combined with a specialized sanding operation, is the basis of our renowned Vila-Seal finish.

With Vila-Seal, you have a surface impervious to most household hazards, including water, milk, juices, alcohol, nail polish and remover

Care In The Home

Like any fine furniture, Vilas pieces actually improve with age. When first received, we recommend wood surfaces be washed with soap and water. This removes a wax coating applied for protection during shipping, as well as any dust accumulated during transit. Thereafter only a wipe with soap and water or vinegar and water is required once or twice a year. Household waxes and wax sprays are non-essential to the appearance and durability of Vila-Seal surfaces, and are not recommended.

Fabrics

We spend a great deal of time searching for just the right fabrics for our upholstered pieces.

They must be fashionable, while at the same time meeting Vilas' own stringent quality tests as to durability and colour fastness.

Just as we take the time to make the right choice in coverings, so should you. Fine fabrics for example, such as velvets and printed cottons, will serve you well in your living rooms, but are generally not recommended for use in playrooms, or dens - you'll find the more robust tweeds and checks made from nylon or polypropylene fibres much more durable in these rough-and-tumble areas. Frequent vacuum cleaning is essential to keep your upholstered pieces fresh and new looking in appearance.
